ISTRIA

Every now and then, life surprises us by reminding us how beautiful it can be. Rich in colors and excitement, full of joy and delight, very simple, cheerful. Sometimes we experience that moment while grilling with friends, in an evening walk with the person we love, with the smell of morning coffee...

But what if we told you that this is not about the moment at all, but about the place? About the place where you are always at your best. The place that invites you to be spontaneous, daring, and smiling. The place where you feel life as it should be. That place is called Istria.

The place that inspires us.

NATURAL STONE

Drawing inspiration from the materials that surround us and guided by the wisdom and expertise of our ancestors in stone craftsmanship, we embarked on our journey with the Istrian stone at its heart. The very quarries that once provided stone for the construction of Venetian architecture continue to be the source of our materials today.

We always choose materials that share the same characteristics: durability, quality, and beauty. Natural stone has excellent technical and mechanical properties in terms of absorption, freezing, and wear. It is incredibly durable and available in various finishes: polished, sandblasted, burnt or rigatto.

The inspiration, the material.

OUR PHILOSOPHY

Istria, our home and creative haven, still preserves the Italian tradition and heritage of enjoying the lifestyle of outdoor living. This is enabled by its splendid climate, landscape, architecture, and enveloping materials. Our mission is to elevate this heritage by bringing joy to you through our products.

We craft distinctive environments worldwide. Our brand mirrors an elegantly casual lifestyle, offering products that cater to both mind and body for relaxation—a key to our well-being. This equilibrium is achieved through designs that blend comfort, quality, and aesthetic pleasure, always tailored to the unique needs of our clients.

At KORTA our mission has always been to encourage people to sense harmony at home and wherever they are. This approach resonates with both hospitality and wellness projects. Our general desire is that each outdoor living space becomes an experience of the Istrian lifestyle.

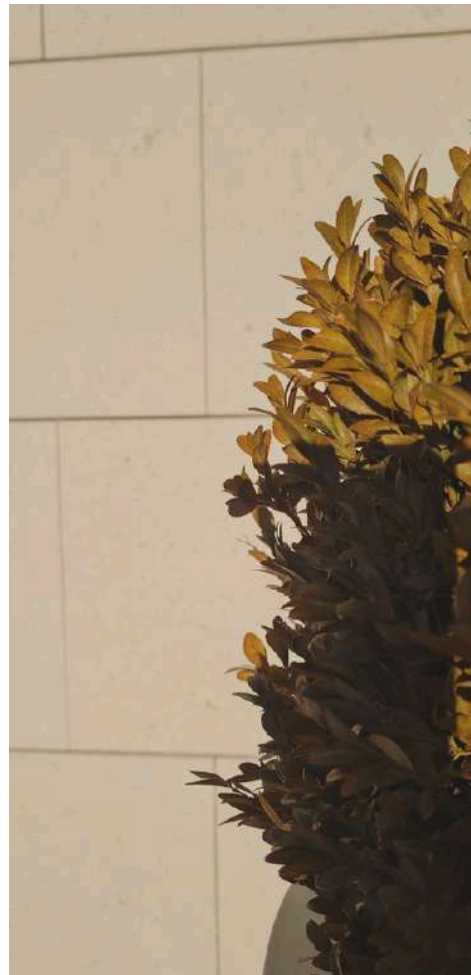

Our doors open to stunning exteriors, where products harmonize with nature to establish the desired ambiance. This encapsulates our essence: fashioning environments where life can be embraced, lived, and enriched with hedonistic sensations.

Timeless Beauty, Carved in Stone. A Piece of Istria, to Call Your Own.

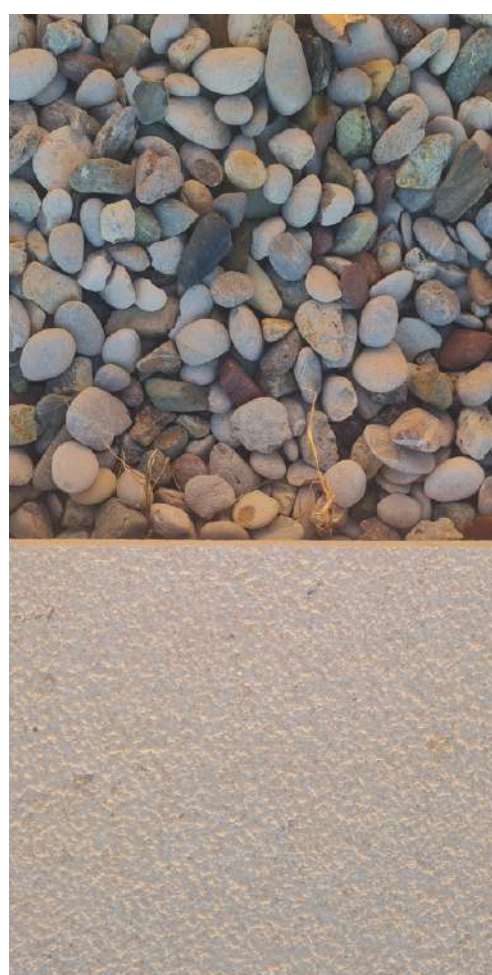

Mediterranean roots, passion for life, sun, and beautiful design.

At KORTA, we transcend mere shape and aesthetics, prioritizing the dynamics of interactions that unfold among humans, objects, and spaces.

KORTA reveals hidden spaces, experiences, materials, and processes within everyday life.

We challenge ecological values and explore the perceptual and emotional experiences that the distinctive materiality of products can offer.

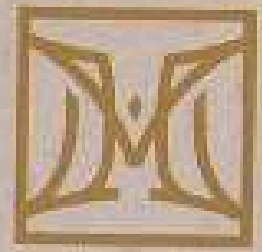

Our design charrettes, where multiple participants meet to exchange ideas and brainstorm solutions, stand as an example of transparency, and collaboration.

We encourage all our team members to be active participants in the design process, contributing ideas and suggestions for new product development.

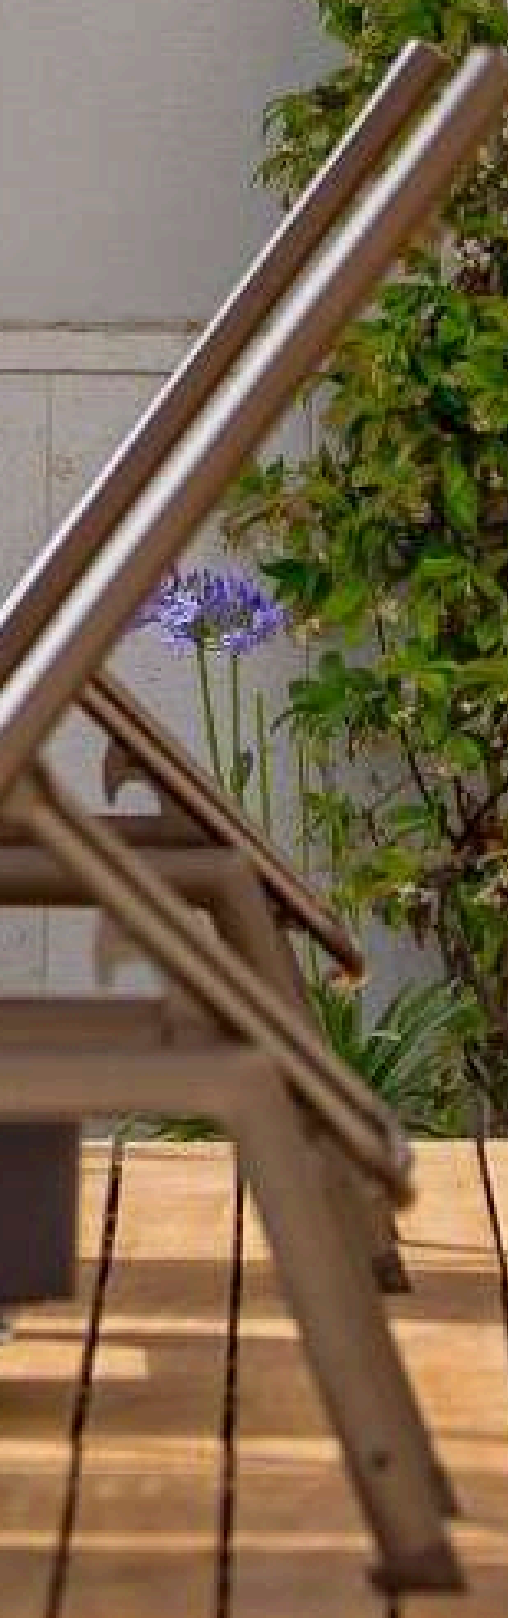

We consistently look forward, assessing processes and outcomes that are both dependable and essential for a better future, while also becoming agents of tradition and transformation.

THE STORY

Legacy.

Working with stone and similar materials is in the family's blood. Our legacy traces to 1995 when Stefano's grandfather and father started a business of natural stone processing. Their experience has been transferred to him, and he used it to create the first outdoor shower made of stone. His father is still active and now serves as our manufacturing advisor. We believe that it is crucial to have someone with experience on board.

We always deliver products of the very best quality. All our products are carefully engineered, manufactured, and internally tested; ensuring that they abide by our high standards of quality and performance. All of that to deliver the very best solutions to our clients. Most of our products are designed in-house, while Sandro Užila, a designer with whom we share the same values and philosophy, is the creator of particular design collections.
